

ACTIVITY- 1

આ Rhyme ગાઓ.

The town clock says six o'clock.
The kitchen clock says eight o'clock
Daddy's watch says seven o'clock

I hope I won't be late.

Mummy says that one is past and one is one hour late

One is right but which is it ?

I really do not know.

તમારા શિક્ષક નીચેના જેવા પ્રશ્નો પૂછશે. ચિત્રની મદદથી તેના જવાબ આપો. તે જવાબો અને કવિતાને આધારે નીચેના કોઠામાં વિગતો ભરો: Where is the minute hand in daddy's watch?

	hour hand (short hand)	minute hand (long hand)
Town clock		at twelve kitchen clock
Daddy's watch

ACTIVITY- 2

આ વાર્તા સાંભળો, વાંચો અને ભજવો.

The Sparrow's Swing.

The tower clock in the Juna Bazaar is very old. All the three hands of the clock quarrelled one day.

The thin hand shouted : " I am very fast."

The long hand screamed : " But I am not very slow."

The short hand nodded.

The thin hand said : " You all run after me."

The long hand said : " No, I have my own speed."

The short hand said nothing.

The thin hand tic-talked : " I am useful in science and sports."

The long hand tic-talked : " I am important for all the people."

Now, the short hand was angry, " Stop your noise." He kicked hard. The thin and the long hands fell down. Kanjibhai noticed this first. He looked up to set his wrist-watch. He informed the municipality. The municipality replaced it with a digital clock. But then, a sparrow went to the chief officer. It complained, " Where is my swing ? Where shall I sit, sing and play?"

HELPLINE

[ ] The sparrow complained. "Why did you take off my swings?"

[ ] The thin hand declared that it works more.

[ ] The long hand claimed that it is more important.

ACTIVITY- 4

- નીચેનો સંવાદ વાંચો અને તે પરથી તમારી ઘડિયાળ બનાવો.

Khushi : Mummy, I want to make a clock.

Bhartiben: For school project ?

Khushi : Yes, mom. What are the things we need?

Bhartiben: We need a card sheet and scissors. We can use the cover of an old notebook.

Khushi : Here are the notebook covers and the scissors. I like a square faced clock.

Bhartiben: Fine. Then cut the card in the square shape. Use a scale dear.

Khushi : Okay mom. Fifteen centimeter for each side.

Bhartiben: That's fine. Now, decide the center of the square and mark it with a pencil.

Khushi : Ok. But what about the hands ?

Bhartiben: Use the waste dear. Cut them with one side arrow. Don't forget, we need three hands.

Khushi : O yes mama, I know. A minute hand, an hour hand and a second hand.

Bhartiben: That is correct.

Khushi : Hands are ready. Now, time to mark the time.

Bhartiben: Yes, first mark the points for 3, 6, 9 and 12. Humm..good. Now, mark the points for the rest of the numbers.

Khushi : What can I do to keep the hands moving?

Bhartiben: That is a good question. You guess first.

Khushi : Humm... a pin, a thorn, what else?

Bhartiben: A screw also.

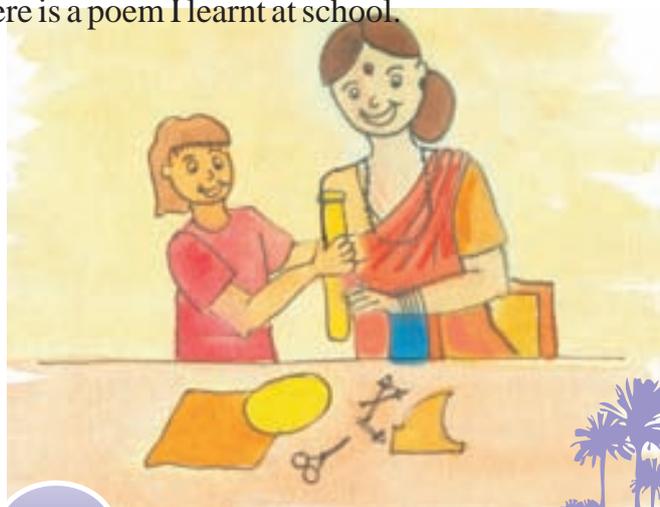

Khushi : Yes, a screw. Oh wow, my clock is ready.

Bhartiben: Well done dear. Now, you can decorate as you wish.

Khushi : Yeah... mama here is a poem I learnt at school.

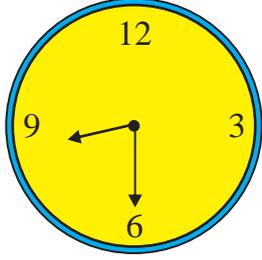

Listen and sing with me:

The new card clock
with a friendly face
makes our house (class)
a happy place
It ticks and talks to us all day
no matter if we work or play.

ACTIVITY- 7

A different experience

I had a bad experience.

It happened last week. There was a marriage ceremony in neighbourhood. There was a lot of noise. I could not sleep properly. So, I woke up at half past eight. I got up quickly and took a shower in a hurry. I had no time to take a cup of tea.

It was ten to nine. I drove my bike fast. I hoped to reach on time. I accelerated the bike. The traffic light was red. I failed to stop my bike at the traffic signal.

I continued to drive fast. A policeman stopped me at the next circle. "Oh shit!" I whispered. The policeman approached me, "Good Morning, you ran the red light. Can I see your driving licence and papers, please." I got off my bike. I tapped my back pocket. I searched in my bag. I peeped into my side case. No sign of my wallet. "Excuse me officer, I left my wallet at home. I am in a hurry," I said. Of course, the policeman did not accept my excuse. He told me, "Keep your bike here. Go home and come with the licence." Luckily, I had some coins in my bag. I caught a public transport and went back home. At half past nine, I returned to the officer. I showed him my driving licence and papers. I paid the fine and collected my bike. When I kicked my bike again, the time was quarter past nine. Late, very late. I knew, my boss will be very angry.

So, I drove the rest of the road like hell.

When I arrived at my office, I was surprised. The gate of the office was closed. The main door was also closed.

Then I realised the mistake. I checked the day on my cell phone. It was Sunday.

Three college friends were shifting to a new place. The new house was on the fifth floor.

They have shifted all the luggage and now only one thing is left out. It was a heavy trunk full of books. As they started to take the trunk at the ground floor, the third friend said, "Wait, I think...."

First friend : Stop thinking right now.

Second friend : Stop speaking right now.

Third friend : But...

First friend : Keep moving on the stairs.

Second friend : Stop talking.

Third friend : Listen to me first....

First friend : No, keep going.

Second friend : Make it fast, it's heavy.

Third friend : Don't tell me then...

First friend : Shh...

When they reached at their place, the door was locked. They found that they did not have the key.
